Our class organized a trip to Palermo in Piazza Sant'Anna with our professors Angela Fantasia and Emanuela Leto art teacher and English teacher. Arrived in Palermo we went to visit the Museum of Modern Art and saw the paintings done with oil on canvas and beautiful sculptures. Inside the museum we saw some beautiful paintings of Francesco loJacono as Autumn realized in 1907 which was our favourite. On leaving the museum we went to the square of shame where there were beautiful statues and a fountain

Then we had lunch at McDonald's at the Central station. after we took the train and we stopped at the station Notarbartolo. after a while we took another train and so we went back home .For us this trip was beautiful and we were very impressed to see those beautiful works of art created by true geniuses and we were thrilled to have shared this experience with our school mates thanks to the professors Leto and Fantasia.
